— Jean Paul Sartre

Aren't mid-Terms this week???

How many nights did you spend in the Pub?

No Clue!

How many day's are left anyway?

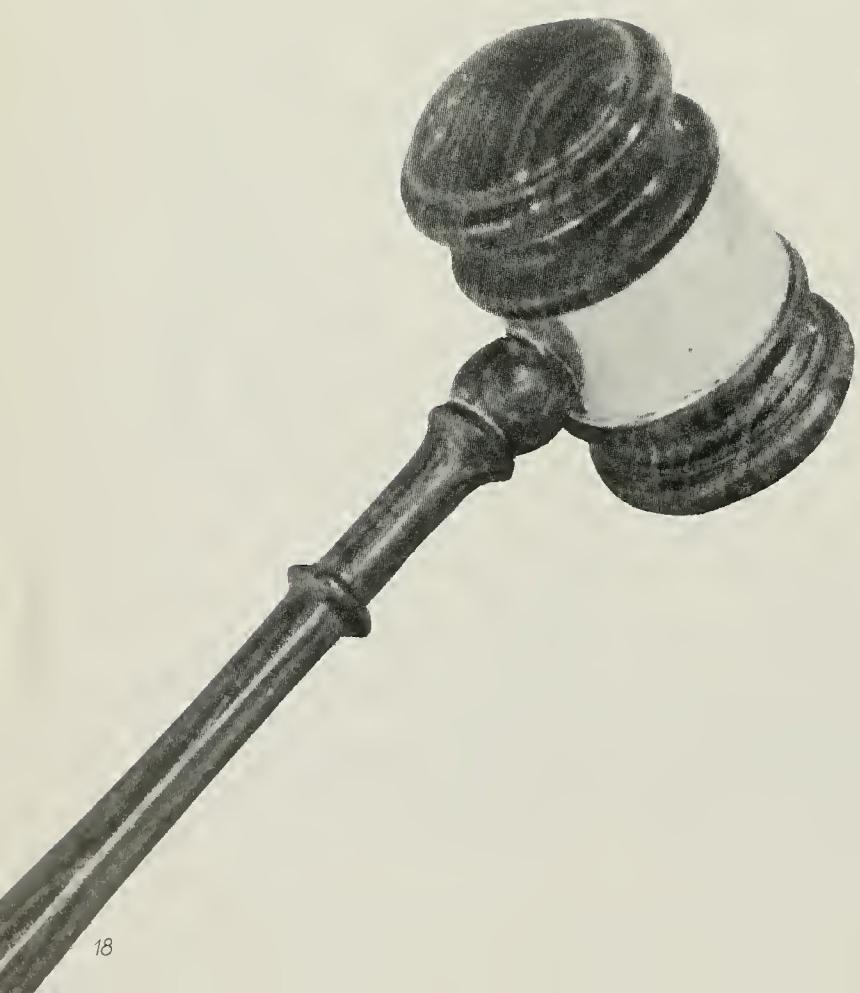

Where were you —
the night of the Talent Show?

We Dedicate This Book To Those Who Let Us Be OURSELVES — And
To Those Of You
We Missed, You
Too Are Special

WINDING DOWN

FINAL DRESS REHEARSAL

Faculty's gift to the seniors

After a while you learn the subtle differences between holding a hand and chaining a soul,
And you learn that love doesn't mean leaning and company doesn't mean security,
And you begin to learn that kisses aren't contracts and presents aren't promises.
And you begin to accept your defeats with your head up and your eyes open, with the grace of an adult, not the grief of a child,
And you learn to build all your roads on today because tomorrow's ground is too uncertain for plans.
After a while you learn that even sunshine burns if you get too much,
So plant your own soul, instead of waiting for someone to bring you flowers.
And you learn you really can endure . . . that you really are strong.
And you really do have worth.

time clouds many memories...

Don't let college be among them... Your college ring makes quiet statements that no other accessory can. It says "pride". It says "achievement". It even says "success". But underneath all the good things other people see are the memories only you can see.

I don't want to write a novel here — I already put the book together!

I also don't want to get personal — someone is bound to be left out — Not Good!

I want to thank everyone that helped out though . . .

Thanks for being you — For pushing harder when I wanted to stop — For standing in my way and allowing my driving rage to go around you — For being negative, so I could think of more ways to prove I could do it — For criticism, help, pep talks, humor, friendship, for time (even though there was never enough!) — For reminding me to "be my best self", when I wished I was someone else! — For hugs, smiles, ideas and the little things that were shared throughout this project — Not to mention the headaches it took to get to this page!!!

If you don't happen to care for this book maybe next time you'll do something about it before it's printed. You might possibly consider getting involved!

"I found this project to be rewarding, challenging and "quite the experience", after all "That which does not kill me makes me stronger" — Nietzsche

Thanks again
Liz-
